

Five-Point Rights Bill

Racial Problem Solution Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy sent Congress a five-point civil rights program today which he said provides "the most responsible, reasonable and urgently needed solutions to this problem."

Kennedy outlined in a 5,500-word special message a legislative package that amounts to one of the broadest civil rights programs proposed in nearly a century.

The major aims of the program are to give Negroes equal accommodations in such public facilities as restaurants, hotels, theaters and recreational areas; to speed school desegregation; to provide "fair and full employment"; to set up on the federal level through executive action a community relations service to work with local biracial groups; and to bar federal assistance to "any program or activity in which racial discrimination occurs."

The program is certain to set off long weeks of heated debate in Congress, particularly about the section on discrimination by privately owned public accommodations and a bar against federal aid for activities in which such discrimination occurs.

In obvious anticipation of that battle, Kennedy asked Congress to "stay in session this year until it has enacted—preferably as a single omnibus bill—the most responsible, reasonable and urgently needed solutions" to race relations difficulties.

He asked every member of Congress to "set aside sectional and political ties, and to look at this issue from the viewpoint of the nation."

On the point of privately owned facilities serving the public, Kennedy said simply that he was proposing "a provision to guarantee all citizens equal access to the services and facilities of hotels and restaurants, places of amusement and retail establishments."

While the message did not go into detail, a draft bill also sent to Congress by Kennedy said that all persons should be entitled "to the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages and accommodations" of a number of what were termed "public establishments."

$8-Million Contracts For Minuteman Work

VANDENBURG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The first solid fuel Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile launched under simulated combat conditions was fired down the Pacific Missile Range Tuesday the Air Force announced.

The missile, launched from an underground silo, was the ninth fired from Vandenberg, said a spokesman. No further details were given.

War Begins On Insects

Sedalia's new fogging machine was placed in operation in and around Liberty Park for the first time Monday night, to begin the Sanitation Department's annual program of keeping insects at a minimum throughout the city.

The department obtained the new carrier, an Army three-fourths-ton weapons carrier, from surplus stores through Civil Defense, at a total cost to the city of about $200. For the past few days Willard Morris, Sanitation officer, has been busy painting the machine white, and moving the fogger and related equipment onto the machine.

With the new carrier, which will be used permanently as a fogging machine, the pickup truck used in past years is released to be used for other duties in the department.

As the machine will be in operation all over the city until late Fall, Morris, asked the cooperation of everyone in keeping the fogging operation a safe one. He pointed out that the new machine has a flashing red light, brighter than the light used last year, in front, and that the department plans to also have red lights in the rear of the machine.

IN OPERATION—This new fogging unit will be seen in Sedalia until late Fall. Willard Morris, sanitation officer, has asked all drivers and pedestrians to be particularly careful around the unit when it is in operation, because the fog "blinds" drivers to the extent they cannot see when driving through the fog cloud. The unit began operation Monday. The carrier came from Army surplus through Civil Defense. The fogger is the one bought by the city several years ago. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC Railroad has contributed its Baby Eagle II to the City of Sedalia. Presented by Downing B. Jenks, president of the railroad, the train will be used in Sedalia Parks. Here the Baby Eagle stands along side of a regular MoPac locomotive when it appeared at the Sedalia Centennial in 1960. Presentation will be made at ceremonies in Liberty Park July 4 at 2 p.m.

MoPac's Baby Eagle II Contributed to the City

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has contributed its popular Baby Eagle II train to the City of Sedalia.

Donation of the well-known reproduction of a MoPac passenger train was made by Downing B. Jenks, president of the railroad, through arrangements with the Chamber of Commerce.

The train will be formally presented to Sedalia by James S. Simon, superintendent of the railroad's shops, in ceremonies at Liberty Park July 4 at 2 p.m., according to George W. Ray, president of the city Park Department.

Others from Sedalia, in addition to Simon and Ray, who will participate in the presentation ceremony will include: Mayor L. L. Studer, the following members of the Park Board: Elmer Lane, vice-president, John VandeKamp, secretary-treasurer, T. B. (Blue) Young, W. T. Solon, Dr. A. R. Maddox, members of the City Council, the Chamber of Commerce will be represented by Cecil Owens, president, Sam Boyle, members of the board of directors, and other civic leaders.

"Following the presentation, the Baby Eagle will be utilized in the park," Ray said. "Not only will the train be an asset in our continuing efforts to develop Sedalia's parks into a show place, but it is also appropriate that this fine gift comes from, and is symbolic of, the Missouri Pacific — Sedalia's oldest and largest industry which has contributed to the city's development throughout its history."

Open Air Concert Thursday Eve At Liberty Park

Summer concert four of the Sedalia Concert Band will be given at 8 p.m. Thursday night at Liberty Park. Lloyd H. Knox is director.

Numbers to be presented before intermission are: "Midwest Glory March," Edwards; "Valiant Youth March," King; "Wanting You," Romberg; "Because," D'Hardelet; "Seventy-Six Trombones," Wilson; "A Kiss in the Dark," Herbert; theme from "The Apartment," Williams - Werle; "King Cane," Sturcheis.

Following intermission, the band will play: "Rolling Thunder," Fillmore; "Clarinet Polka," Bennett; "Climb Ev'ry Mountain," Rogers and Hammerstein; high lights from "Take Me Along," Bob Merrill; "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," Rogers and Hammerstein; "Gallantry March," Messing; "The Star Spangled Banner," Key.

Musicians for the concert series are furnished through a grant from the Recording Industry Trust Fund arranged for through the cooperation of Local 22, American Federation of Musicians, in cooperation with the Sedalia Park Board.

dome car of the type used on the railroad's popular fleet of Eagle trains.

Built in 1960, the Baby Eagle II is the second train of its size and has appeared in parades in communities served by the railroad.

The total length of the two units coupled together is 46 feet. Each is four feet wide, the locomotive unit is 54 inches high and the car measures 66 inches in height at "This gift to the city is just one more example of the spirit of cooperation and friendship that exists between the people of Sedalia and the railroad," Ray pointed out.

The Baby Eagle is a neatly proportioned, one-third size reproduction of a Missouri Pacific diesel locomotive combined with an attractive streamline observation-top of the dome.

The two-unit train is self-propelled, powered by a tractor with-

Coin Club Show Set On Weekend

Sedalia will be the mecca for numismatists Saturday and Sunday when the Central Missouri Coin club will hold its annual coin show in the new air-conditioned Agriculture Building at the Missouri State Fair grounds.

According to officers of the club who have completed arrangements for the event, the varied displays of coins will be even more fascinating than those of last year when the show was held at Convention Hall, Liberty Park.

Over 25 dealers from various parts of the country, including Florida, Indiana, Ohio and Oklahoma, will have bourse tables and displays of their coins. Bill Hert, local dealer, says a person doesn't have to be a confirmed numismatist to enjoy a show like the one scheduled at the Fair grounds this weekend.

Show hours will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Sunday.

An auction of over 150 lots of copper, silver and gold coins will be held Saturday night, starting at 7 p.m. These coins will be on display during the day.

The coin club emphasizes there will be no admission charge and encourages parents with teen-age children to attend and stimulate interest of the youngsters in the popular hobby of coin collecting.

Shell Station Planned

The Shell Oil Company will erect a new service station at 2701 South Limit.

A building permit for the new station was obtained Tuesday from Building Inspector L. W. Dickmann.

The Weather

Considerable cloudiness and not much temperature change tonight. Scattered showers and thunderstorms this evening with locally heavy rains. Fair to partly cloudy and warmer Thursday. Low tonight mid to upper 60s. High Thursday 88 to 94.

The temperature Wednesday was 70 at 7 a.m. and 72 at 1 p.m. Low Tuesday night was 65, with .12 inches of rainfall.

The temperature one year ago today was, high 86; low 65; two years ago, high 84; low 60; three years ago, high 88; low 62.

Lake of Ozark stage: 57.3 feet; 2.7 below full reservoir; up 2.

Street Work Spurred By Road District

Funds Are Short But Machines And Labor At Work

Even though the 12-Mile Road District did not have the normal $25,000 cash to spend on through streets in Sedalia this year, a chain of circumstances will allow the City to receive more than this amount in services.

Early this year the District notified the City that due to previous commitments for rights-of-way and bridge construction, the district would not have money to spend in the City.

The district did have, it was explained, money to operate the district, but no money for materials. Operational expenses include salaries, fuel for equipment in operation and other normal operational costs.

The district offered to pave city streets, if the city would buy the materials. Some arrangements were made to purchase materials, but the weather conditions last Winter and Spring gave what is considered the biggest boost to the program.

In normal years, the weather in Winter and Spring is wet, with heavy freezes and considerable damage to 12-Mile Road District roadways. This year, when roads were inspected, it was found that the dry weather limited damage to the roads.

With its own roads in good shape, the district commission told the City Council it would repair any street, through street or not, if the city would furnish the materials. The district offered to

Bridge Load Signs Planned for 30 Foot and Over Spans

All Pettis County bridges 30 feet or over in length will soon bear load limit signs as the result of a County Court order issued Wednesday morning by Presiding Judge C. Berry Elliott.

The order instructs County Highway Engineer Royal Ragar to erect the load limit signs.

The order comes in the wake of the collapse of an 80-foot bridge over South Fork Creek in the northwestern part of Pettis County. The bridge broke June 10 under a heavily loaded truck owned by a Minuteman missile sub-contractor.

Police Board Formulating Testing Plan

The Police Personnel Board has been working the past few weeks formulating recommendations concerning testing and qualifications for police officers, and for operation of the board in general.

Rev. Roland Cooper, chairman of the board, said today that these recommendations will be completed at a meeting of the board June 25, then presented to the City Council at the next council meeting, scheduled for July 1.

If the recommendations meet council approval at the July 1 meeting, testing of applicants for positions in the Police Department may begin soon thereafter.

Recommendations for the appointment of an Assistant Chief of Police are specifically under study, Rev. Cooper said, and these recommendations will be presented to the council, probably at the July 1 meeting.

Mayor L. L. Studer in a memorandum Wednesday stated, in connection with the position of Assistant Chief of Police:

"Some of the news media in commenting on the Council meeting of June 17, stated that the budget allowed for a salary of $4,900 per year for an Assistant Chief of Police — a new position required under the Merit System

Whittier School Ransacked By Elusive Vandals

Vandals ransacked Whittier School, 907 East 16th, Tuesday night and escaped before police officers arrived.

Police received a report of some boys being seen on top of the school at 8:25 p.m. The boys slipped away before officers reached the school, but evidence that the youths had been inside the building, as well as on the roof, was prominent.

Officers said door glasses were broken, a substance like washing powder was thrown all over the floor, storage closets were ransacked and books and papers scattered on the floor.

Saturday three juvenile aged youths were caught inside the school by police after a report of a break-in had been received. The juveniles have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Burglars Hit Sixth Place In 3 Weeks

A burglary discovered early Wednesday morning at Spec's Drive-In, 705 South Ohio, was at least Sedalia's sixth such forced entry and theft during June and the 16th in a series of similar crimes in slightly over a month.

The drive-in was found burglarized by an employee who opened the establishment at 6 a.m. C. C. DeLozier is the proprietor.

Police said entry was gained by prying open a window on the east side of the building. An undetermined amount of money was taken, police reported.

Thus far in June three other bars and eating establishments have been burglarized and remain unsolved. The Melody Lounge, 207 East Main, was found broken into on June 5; the Wanderer Inn, Second and Lamine, suffered a heavy money loss in a burglary discovered June 12; and the East End Tavern, Fifth and Engineer, was found burglarized June 17.

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin told the Democrat-Capitol that 16 burglaries dating back to May 12 — a period of slightly over a month to date — has resulted in a total loss of $1,219.09, which is still not recovered.

Investigation by police has solved two burglaries during the period and charges have been filed. Solved were entries to Fowler's Standard Service Station, Fourth and Osage, and Caldwell's Radio & TV Shop, Fifth and Engineer.

Hamlin said police are intensifying their investigation.

374 Circuit Court Cases During 1962

An annual judicial report prepared by Circuit Clerk Bryan Howe reveals the Pettis County Circuit Court disposed of 374 civil, 66 criminal and 76 juvenile cases during the year completed June 15. The report is prepared at mid-year and covers the court's actions from June 16, 1962 to June 15, 1963.

The court started the term with 300 civil cases pending from the previous period and 402 additional cases were filed. Disposing of 374 of these, the court has 328 still pending on the civil docket. In civil action, 115 divorces were disposed of through a trial and 39 without trial, the report indicated.

On the criminal docket, the court started the year with 23 cases pending and 91 new cases were filed. Of the 66 criminal cases disposed of three went to trial, 35 were finished when the defendants entered guilty pleas and the remaining 28 were disposed of by other means including those withdrawn. Forty-eight criminal cases were left pending on the court docket.

The court had 54 juvenile cases pending from the previous year and 43 new cases were filed. After disposing of 76 of these, 21 remain on the docket.

Completed cases included 34 delinquent children, seven neglected children and 34 adoptions, the report states.

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: In the last three days I have received five copies of one of your columns—the one about the woman who had a habit of punching people on the arm or socking them in the ribs to emphasize a point. One clipping was mailed from another city.

There is no question but that I'm guilty of the habit. What puzzles me, however, is how a person can have such a habit and not know it. I recall reading that column and I laughed. It never occurred to me that I could be the woman.

From now on I'm going to make a real effort to keep my hands to myself. I am deeply grateful to my friends who went to the trouble of mailing me the clippings. I only wish someone had told me years ago. It makes me sad to think I have been abusing my friends for heaven knows how long. Thank you for everything, Ann.—REFORMED PUGILIST.

Dear Reformed: Your letter supports my contention that this habit is indeed an unconscious one. Some readers wrote to say I was off base—that no person could sock and punch and not know he was doing it. I'm happy you wrote.

Dear Ann Landers: You are a fine human relations columnist but a bum attorney. You told "Conscience"—the woman whose husband filed a bankruptcy petition—that since she felt guilty about "sticking all those people" (many were personal friends) she should indeed go back to work and pay them. You further recommended that she write or phone and advise them of her good intentions. You said she'd probably "feel better immediately."

The advice is beautiful from a human relations point of view, but legally such a move would be disastrous. The woman would have her husband right back in hock to all his creditors.

The only safe way for a person to repay a debt which has been cancelled under a bankruptcy filing is to make no promises whatever, but to quietly save the amount owed one creditor, pay in full, and then go on to the next creditor—and the next—and so on. Please give the word to the lady at once, and stop practicing law without a license, Doll.—JUDGE O.F.D.

Dear Judge: Twenty swats for me with a rolled up writ of replevin. Dozens of attorneys and a few judges wrote to inform me that I had slipped over into their territory. I promise not to try to practice law in the future if you lawyers will promise not to try to write an advice column.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has a 22-year-old daughter by a former marriage. Ellen was raised by her mother and she's always been a problem. She has been in trouble with truant officers and teachers. Finally she was expelled from school and had to graduate through the mail.

My husband saw very little of Ellen until three months ago. Suddenly they have taken quite an interest in each other. The reason—she is being married this Fall and wants a nice, beautiful, expensive wedding.

My husband has less than $100 in the bank, yet he wants to give her a wedding which will cost about $1,000. He says he'll borrow the balance. I don't mind borrowing in case of necessity but this is a luxury and I am against it. What is your advice?—PIGEON-TOED.

Dear Pigeon: Your husband is probably feeling guilty about neglecting Ellen all these years and this is his way of making it up to her. Let him do as he wishes about his daughter's wedding. It may be a "luxury" to YOU—but to him it is a necessity.

Confidential to MADE MY OWN BED: Stop moaning, Sister. Sometimes a hard bed is better for the spine than a soft one. Adjust to it. Others have—and you can, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problem. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (c) 1963, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate.

Marine Gunnery Sergeant Charles M. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Green, 1402 South Kentucky, Sedalia, departed Camp Pendleton, Calif., May 1 as a member of the First Battalion, First Regiment of the First Marine Division slated for a 13-month tour of duty with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa.

Upon arriving at the Far East Island they will be redesignated the Second Battalion, Ninth Regiment.

Shortly after joining the Third Division, the unit will participate in mountain and cold weather training at Mt. Fuji, Japan. They will also spend a two-month training phase as the Seventh Fleet's floating battalion landing team with scheduled visits to Hawaii, Japan, Korea, the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong and the Philippines.

This unit transfer is part of the transplacement system designed to keep the Okinawa-based division an effective part of the nation's "force in readiness."

Captain Benjamin K. Vieth formerly of Buncheon, has arrived at Lakenheath RAF Station, England, for assignment with a unit of the United States Air Forces in Europe.

Captain Vieth, son of Ben D. Vieth of Route 1, Buncheon, will serve with the 48th Fighter Wing as an aircraft maintenance officer. He previously was stationed in Italy.

The captain is a graduate of Buncheon High School. He attended American International College in Springfield, Mass., and the University of Maryland.

William T. Moore, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Moore of Buncheon, Mo., recently reported for duty aboard the Pacific Fleet attack aircraft carrier USS Oriskany which is presently operating with the First Fleet off the coast of California.

Curiosity Is The Clue To Health And Long Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Aside from good health, the greatest gift the gods can give is an active sense of curiosity.

It is a form of human wealth more important than all the gold ever accumulated.

Man's progress—if it can be called that—springs almost entirely from his curiosity, and as a matter of fact a man's health can pretty well be measured by his sense of curiosity. It is when he is sick that he is inclined to feel bored, and want "to get away from it all."

Curiosity may have killed the cat, but it helps human beings to live longer—and more happily.

The first sign a girl is considering marrying a man is her desire to straighten his necktie. But when she starts brushing the dandruff off the shoulders of his blue serge suit in public, he's a goner for sure.

No really good book was ever killed by a bad critic. Ironically, however, many a bad book has become popular because a good critic knocked it.

Good advice is like castor oil. It can't do you any good unless you take it.

If a visitor from Mars judged earth by what appears on television programs, he could hardly escape the conclusion that the two greatest problems facing mankind are: What kind of detergent to put in the washing machine, and whether to use a roll-on, spray or cream deodorant.

Many people take a melancholy satisfaction in having insomnia, feeling it proves that at least they are doing their fair share of the national worrying, when all it actually indicates is that they aren't getting enough physical exercise.

Those who perform some of the most essential chores in this world are most often among the poorest rewarded. A dog catcher performs a necessary service, but do you know of anybody who ever mentioned one in his will?

It's the guy who has to ask his wife for lunch money who borrows most from the other fellows in the office.

A woman dates the beginning of middle age not by her years or the sign of gray hair but by the fact she has to go from a size 12 to a size 14 dress.

A man never realizes his wife is no longer young until she starts reminding him to act his age.

There's nothing people fight harder against than doing something they are told is best for them. Thus it does little real good to warn overweight people their excess poundage is bad for them. But if Congress passed a law making it illegal to be slender, every fat man and fat woman in the land would go on a diet overnight.

CAIRO (AP)—Yemen's request to join the projected federation of Egypt, Syria and Iraq has been approved by U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The United States is warning India that American help in building the Bokaro steel plant will mean less U.S. aid for other Indian development projects, American sources said today.

The U.S. administration has decided to help build Bokaro, the sources said, but the decision has not been communicated to the Indian government formally because it still may run into opposition in the U.S. Congress.

Says U. S. Economy Is Rosy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges reported Tuesday the nation is enjoying a rosy economy—record high personal income and increased housing starts in May and steady corporate profits in the first quarter.

"I think good business will continue into next year," he told a news conference.

Personal income in this country reached a record annual rate of $45.8 billion in May, Hodges said. In the first five months of this year, the figure was at an annual rate $19.5 billion above that in same period last year.

Hodges said "I think it is good news" that corporate profits in the first quarter of this year were virtually unchanged from the final three months of 1962.

Expanding on his report on personal income, Hodges said that after adjustment for seasonal variations the May figure showed a $2-billion gain in annual rate over the April figure.

Most of the increase, $1.5 billion, was in wage and salaries. Half of the payroll increase was spread among manufacturing industries. The other half was divided among service industries and government payrolls.

The question of civil rights came up at the news conference. And Hodges said, in reply to questions, that his department's figures do not show that racial unrest and demonstrations have had any "tremendous effect" on business.

He said he has no plans to make any formal speeches in support of equality for Negroes and other minority groups.

Civil rights matters in relation to business are being taken care of "at the highest level," Hodges commented.

"As a matter of philosophy," Hodges said, "I think it is much better if these things are done by local leaders at a local level. When the locality doesn't do its job, then the government at some level usually steps in."

Hodges said he is sorry that the Canadian government is imposing new taxes on foreign investment. He described it as "a very restrictive move."

However, he said, in the immediate future the Canadian move can be expected to improve the U.S. balance of payments prob-

Mrs. Jerry D. Newkirk

Charlene Diltney, Jerry Newkirk Are Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

By candlelight, at half past seven o'clock Saturday evening, June 1, at the First Methodist Church, Tipton, Miss Charlene Diltney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diltney, Buncheon, and Mr. Jerry D. Newkirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Newkirk, Tipton, exchanged wedding vows.

The Rev. Joe Lightner performed the double ring ceremony before an arch shaped candelabra centered with pastel flowers. A fern was on each side.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Jim Briscoe, at the organ, played traditional selections. Mrs. Briscoe accompanied Mrs. Orville Courtney, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Altar candles were lighted by Miss Joyce Schupp, Sedalia, cousin of the bride, and Miss Marianne Cole, Pilot Grove. They wore dresses of mint green silk organza fashioned with scalloped necklines, petite sleeves, and full skirts. Matching tiaras, outlined with pearls, held their circlets of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of lilac and white carnations.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of Chantilly lace, made with long tapered sleeves, a softly scalloped neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins and tiny pearls and a fitted basque bodice. The bouffant skirt featured tiers of scalloped lace outlined with sequins and falling into a chapel train. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was caught by a double tiara of Chantilly lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible and an orchid.

Mrs. Richard Mortenson, sister of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor. She wore a day-time dress of lilac silk organza, styled with a scalloped neckline, petite sleeves and a full skirt. A tiara outlined with pearls held her circlet of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of lilac and white carnations.

Mrs. William Stahl, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Richard Langkop, Sedalia, were bridesmaids. Mrs. Stahl had a pink dress styled like that of the matron of honor, and Mrs. Langkop's gown was of blue. They carried white carnations and carnations to match their frocks.

Flower girl was Miss Brenda Marlin, Nelson, cousin of the bride. She wore a yellow dress like those of the other attendants.

Master Allen Mortenson, nephew of the bridegroom, was bearer of the wedding bands.

Mr. Richard Mortenson served as best man for his brother-in-law. Groomsmen were Mr. William Stahl and Mr. Dick Embry, brother-in-law and uncle of the bridegroom.

Ushering was done by Mr. Orville Courtney, Mr. Ricky Embry,

Mrs. Larry Lewis Patton

Bride's Month Includes Wedding Of Donna Howell To Larry Patton

The Rev. Walter P. Arnold read the double ring ceremony at East Sedalia Baptist Church, which united in marriage Miss Donna Faye Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Howell, 1114 East 13th, and Mr. Larry Lewis Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Patton, LaMonte, at half past two o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 2.

A large brass candelabra, with pink daisies, white gladioli and jade, held cathedral tapers. On either side of the candelabra were palm plants.

Miss Sandra Momborg, organist, played "Fascination," "One Hand, One Heart," "Because," "O Promise Me," and "Calm as the Night." She accompanied Miss Gloria Petree, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

A lace tablecloth of white over lilac taffeta covered the bride's table. A five tiered wedding cake, centered on top with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was on the bride's table.

Mrs. Riley Edwards, Buncheon, was in charge of the guest book. Servers at the reception were Mrs. Grace Dwyer, Mrs. Gene Gamber, Mrs. J. W. Martin and Mrs. Charles B. Diltney.

Mrs. Dick Embry, Miss Pam Embry, Miss Janet Gerhardt and Miss Judy Kay Nelson assisted with the gifts.

After the reception the couple left for a short trip. The bride wore a white and pink knit suit with white accessories and a pink tea rose corsage. The couple will be at home in Tipton.

The bride is a graduate of Buncheon High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Tipton High School, is engaged in farming.

bride, the latter of Nevada, lighted candles.

Mr. Frank E. Howell escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's dress was of bridal satin, covered with bridal illusion net. The bodice was of lace with a scoop neckline. The skirt featured inserts of lace. For her headdress she chose a bridal crown with bridal illusion net. Her bouquet was of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Karren Mitts, Nevada, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. Her powder blue chiffon dress was accessorized with white. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, accenting the bouquet of the bride. A tiara was worn on her hair.

Best man was Mr. David E. Sparks, a nephew of the bridegroom. Guests were seated in the chancel by Mr. Franklin E. Howell and Mr. Edward L. Merchant, the latter of Nevada.

Miss Jeanna Bell, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bell, 1319 East Sixth, wore a white full length dress of acetate taffeta covered with net. The bodice of tiny ruffles was highlighted with pink rose buds. Her headdress was a small pillbox hat, with brief veiling.

The mother of the bride wore a blue floral print chiffon over taffeta dress. Her accessories were white and she had a pink carnation corsage. For the wedding, the mother of the bridegroom selected a black eyelet dress accessorized with pink and a pink carnation corsage.

Approximately 85 guests attended the three o'clock afternoon reception in the basement of the church.

Pink carnations, white bells, and pink and white streamers decorated the reception room. A three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with greenery and pink daisies was on the bridal table. Mrs. Cecil Smith, Mrs. Roy Lane and Miss Patty Stuart served.

Miss Diane Shoemaker was in charge of the guest book.

The bride wore a brown and white pink striped seersucker suit, a ruffled white blouse and white accessories.

Graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1963, the bride is on the sales staff of Priddy's Shoe Store.

The bridegroom is a 1960 gradu-

House Gets 'Just In Case' Bill

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House sent the Senate a bill Tuesday sharply increasing state payments to municipal hospitals which treat mental patients or care for custodial cases.

Sponsors said it was a "just in case bill," should another measure fail to pass that would establish three intensive mental treatment centers in Kansas City, St. Louis and Columbia.

The bill would boost state payments for mental patient treatment from $8 a month to $540 a month. It would raise the payments for custodial patients from the present $8 a month to $4 a day, or about $120 a month.

Both Kansas City and St. Louis have hospitals that would be affected. Both would be taken over by the state if the intensive mental treatment program is enacted.

In an effort to save a little margin on the state's budget of about $1.5 billion for the next two years' operations, the Senate rejected a compromise bill that would give old age assistance recipients the right to own property valued at $7,500 instead of the present $5,000 maximum, and still be eligible.

Sponsors conceded it would cost an estimated $12 million in a biennium so the Senate rejected it on a 23-9 vote.

The measure could go into House - Senate conference once more for another try at reaching a compromise.

Generally the House worked on passage of comparatively minor bills as it marked time while the Appropriations Conference committee toiled to settle House-Senate differences on the budget bills.

The House sent more than a dozen bills to the Senate including ones to:

Tell the state Division of Mental Diseases it must pay employees of all state hospitals the same scale, whether they work in a metropolitan or rural area. Now, the bill's sponsors said, the scale in St. Louis is higher than it is in some outstate areas like St. Joseph, Fulton or Nevada.

Give local revenue department agents 40 cents instead of 25 cents for each license they sell.

Authorize pay raises for all Greene County elective officials at an estimated annual cost of $19,600.

Let non-teaching employees of schools, such as secretaries and janitors, come under the state teachers' retirement system.

JC Wives' Board Of Last Year Is Honored

Retiring officers of Jaycee Wives were honored Monday night at dinner at Flat Creek Inn.

Mrs. Bob Withers, new president, presided and gave recognition to officers of last year: Mrs. Clem Darrow, president; Mrs. Stew Karrow, treasurer; Mrs. Dick Thomas, secretary; and board members, Mrs. Stan Gunter, Mrs. Allen Hawkins and Mrs. Tom Miller. Mrs. Withers was vice-president last year.

Mrs. Hawkins was presented with a scrapbook for the year she served as president.

LT. Phillip Hoile, Fort Leonard Wood, spoke on nurse recruitment and the educational benefits received by an Army nurse.

Agreement was made to operate a concession for the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Sidewalk Bazaar in July.

A report on progress of the Soap Box Derby Queen Contest was made by Mrs. Walt Schroeder. Girls between the ages of 11 and 15 may still enter the contest by contacting Mrs. Schroeder at 2204 West Second. Pictures, with name, address, age and parents' names are to be submitted.

Arthur Payne, former Sedalian, of Lake Worth, Fla., and grandson, Danny Payne, also of Lake Worth, and his sister, Mrs. Sarah Henry, of Kansas City, arrived Monday for a visit with their cousins, G. C. Garrett, 1409 South Carr and Mrs. Mae Moser Pulliam, 2001 East Broadway. They will be here until Wednesday.

The Paynes formerly had a music store in Sedalia at 500 South Ohio. The family home was at 320 West Fourth. Mr. Payne still is in the business of tuning pianos and organs.

Bill Farron is one of the 1963 graduates of Rockhurst College, who will begin the Peace Corp training this summer. His mother, Mrs. Martha Farron of Hickman Mills, is the former Martha Redmond of Sedalia. He is a nephew of Lee Redmond, 422 Wilkerson and Mrs. John J. McGrath, of Route 3.

Farron is an economic major, and hopes to take part in a rural community action program in the Republic of Honduras. His training begins Aug. 1.

Blue Cross Names Shelton To Top Post

Robert E. Shelton, 1442 Hawthorne Place, Richmond Heights, a former Sedalian, has been appointed executive vice-president of the St. Louis Blue Cross Plan, it was announced by Oscar W. Rexford, president.

Shelton was reared by his grandparents, Mrs. C. O. Goodknight, of Clinton, formerly of Sedalia, and the late Mr. Goodknight after the death of his parents. He is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School and was a carrier boy for the Sedalia Democrat.

A native of Sedalia, he joined the Blue Cross organization in 1950 and has served as the plan's controller since 1958 and vice-president and controller since 1961.

Following naval service in the South Pacific during World War II, he was graduated from Washington University in 1950. He is president of the Midtown Kiwanis Club, a member of the board of directors of the Sherwood Forest Camping Association and a member of the official board and chairman of the Commission on Finance and Administration of Grace Methodist Church. For the last 12 years he has served as scoutmaster of Ladue Grade School Troop 344 and holds the Scouters Key for outstanding service to scouting.

Mr. Shelton is married and is the father of two sons and two daughters.

Truth Labor Topic For Baptist Group

The Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Thursday evening at the church. The topic of the evening was "Co-Laborers for the Truth."

Mrs. William Reed, program chairman, directed the program as a school, using as the school theme, "College of Missionary Knowledge." She introduced her professor and students of the school. Maps were used to illustrate world geography as related to the expansion of the Southern Baptist foreign missions program, and a large chart was used to show the consistent growth of the advanced program which was launched in 1948 with 625 missionaries under appointment in 19 countries. Ten years later the figures had been doubled. The history class focus was on Liberia and West Africa.

A quiz in review on "The Republic of Liberia" was given by Mrs. Nathalia Poynter acting as professor of the class. Others participating on the program were: Beverly Fleming, Kay Arqui, Jodelle Shoemaker and Rose Marie Cooper. The class sang the school theme song, "School Days," with Mrs. Fred Arbogast at the piano.

For the graduation a talk on "Spiritual Frontiers" was given by Miss June DeWitt. She stated that man need not go far to find the greatest frontier which has ever existed. The spiritual frontier is found at every man's door, in every state, every nation. She read Genesis 12:1 and 5, closing with prayer.

Mrs. R. L. Mornberg, president, presided at the executive meeting. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Gray Owen, and the call to prayer by Mrs. J. R. Wallace.

Mrs. Terry Pile, GA counselor, announced that Jodelle Shoemaker, will attend the Girls Auxiliary convention in Memphis, Tenn.

Refreshments were served by the Broomer Circle, Mrs. Gib Owen, chairman, and the Sherer Circle, Mrs. Bryan Shoemaker, chairman, and their committees.

Two Teens Hold Up Delicatessen

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Pete Roppolo, 78, said two boys, 13 and 14 years old, held him up Tuesday at a delicatessen he operates at Tenth and Troost.

One of the boys held a pistol to his head, Roppolo related, and said:

"Get your hands up and stay still. If you move I'll kill you." The other boy took about $125 from the cash register.

"What I did, I guess, wasn't real smart," said Roppolo. "I kept seeing the club under the counter and went for it. The minute I did, the boy with the gun ran outside. I took a swing at the boy with the money and hit him pretty good on the elbow."

Hoover Impatient To Get Well Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover is "impatient to get well again" because "he says he has a lot of unfinished work to do," a family spokesman reports.

But doctors say that Hoover, 88, still is seriously ill with anemia, although some improvement in his condition was noted Tuesday.

A medical bulletin said Hoover's heart rhythm was regular, his temperature was normal and he was taking nourishment. He enjoyed a short visit with his sons, Allan and Herbert Jr., the only visitors permitted in his Waldorf Towers suite.

Hoover became seriously ill 11 days ago. He underwent an operation last August for cancer of the large intestine.

Mrs. Ronald L. Struttman

Ruth Ann Kammerich is Bride Of Mr. Ronald L. Struttman

At St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Tipton, Saturday, May 25, Miss Ruth Ann Kammerich, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kammerich, Syracuse, became the bride of Mr. Ronald L. Struttman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Struttman, Rhineland. White chrysanthemums and fern decorated the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace and silk organza. The all lace fitted bodice had a Sabrina neckline which was outlined in tiny seed pearls and sequins. Traditional long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The full skirt was floor length in three organza tiers, each edged in lace, tapering to points in the back and falling to a chapel train. The skirt front was showered with hand embroidered lace appliques on the organza. She wore a Madonna veil of matching lace, which was crowned by a satin rosette showered with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and ivy.

Miss Wilma Struttman, St. Louis, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a street length sheath dress with overskirt of hyacinth pink organza over taffeta. The basque bodice had a scoop neckline, coming to a "V" in the back, with short cap sleeves. The waistline was fashioned with a large bow which accented the delicate pleats in the overskirt. Her headpiece was a rosette of lace and net. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of harmonizing chrysanthemums and fern.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mary Sturgis, Shatsworth, Calif., sister of the bride, Miss Judy Eldringhoff, Berger, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Phyllis Stoecklein, Tipton. They wore dresses fashioned like that of the maid of honor.

Attired in a gown like those of the bridal attendants, Miss Jeanna Kammerich, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She had a bouquet of harmonizing chrysanthemums and fern.

Mr. Gerald Metzler, St. Louis, served as best man. Mr. James Struttman, Rhineland, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Melvin Bader, St. Charles, and Mr. David Struttman, brother of the bridegroom, were groomsmen.

Master Marc Struglia, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Rings were placed on a heart shaped pillow edged in lace.

Mr. David Wolf, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Georgia Schmidt, sang "Panis Angelicus," "Ave Maria," "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy," "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" was sung as the bride presented a bouquet of white pompon chrysanthemums at the feet of the statue of the Blessed Mother.

Mrs. Kammerich wore a light blue silk frock, appliqued with lace flowers for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories accented the white in her dress, as did her corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Struttman selected a light blue crepe dress with lace bodice and jacket. She wore a blue hat and gloves with black accessories. Her corsage was also of white carnations.

Serving as ushers were: Mr. Kenneth Struttman, St. Louis, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. C. R. Kammerich, Pilot Grove, cousin of the bride, Mr. Norris Kruse, Cainsville, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Arnold Knipp of Tipton.

Mass servers were Mr. Danny Struttman, Rhineland, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. Tommy Stoecklein, Tipton.

Miss Clara Edringhoff, Berger, cousin of the bridegroom, had charge of gifts. Mrs. Robert Hartman, Pilot Grove, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

At 12 o'clock noon, dinner was served to 160 guests in St. Andrew's dining room. Assisting were Mrs. Gladys Yonts and Mrs. Ruth Miller, Tipton.

A reception from two until four o'clock in the afternoon was given to the newlyweds. Assisting was Miss Pat Knipp and Mrs. Robert Hirst, Jr., Tipton, and Miss Lois Nichols, Jefferson City.

For her going away costume, the bride chose a three piece suit dress of navy blue linen with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live at 817 East McCarty, Jefferson City.

Mrs. Struttman is a 1960 graduate of Tipton High School. After graduation, she attended Capital Business College, Jefferson City, and now is employed as secretary in the superintendent's office of Jefferson City Public Schools.

Glenda Joyce Rhoads Into Field Training

Miss Glenda Joyce Rhoads, Route 4, has been appointed as extension home economist in training of Newton County, effective July 1. President Elmer Ellis of the University of Missouri, Columbia, made the announcement, saying the appointment had been approved by the board of curators.

Harvesting Wheat

The Sedalia office of the Division of Employment Security notes that the wheat harvest which got under way in this area June 13 was halted two days later by a 1½-inch rain. During the two-day harvest period, however, one local elevator reported buying two carloads of wheat with test weight averaging 62 pounds per bushel and a moisture content of 14 per cent or less.

One local farmer reported 13 acres of wheat yielded 56 bushels per acre.

The harvesting of the second cutting of alfalfa was also halted by rain, Dick Laffoon of the local office noted.

Tells of Mexico Trip

Emmet Hood was the speaker at Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel, and gave a very informative talk on a trip with his family at Christmastime to Mexico.

The meeting was presided over by Richard Witig, president, with invocation by Lee Deason. Witig led the singing and Miss Lillian Fox was accompanist.

New C.C. Secretary

Miss Carolyn Zahringer, 1008 South Garfield, is the new secretary-receptionist at the Chamber of Commerce office.

which may lead the public to believe that the Merit System has created a new position in the Police Department. It will not result in an additional position in the Police Department. It will be filled by some officer from the ranks of the Police Department, who will be certified to the Mayor and Council for appointment by the Bi-Partisan Personnel Board, and the position vacated by the successful applicant will not be filled.

Rev. Cooper explained the studies being made as follows:

Aaron Haller and Carl Yates are studying testing methods for new officers, application forms for prospective police officers, testing methods for promotional purposes, and methods of establishing performance records for members of the department.

Floyd Priddy and John Ellison will be in charge of administering the tests. This will include giving the time and place for the tests, and either grading or arranging for the grading of the tests. Rev. Cooper indicated parts of the test may be graded by specialists not on the Board.

William F. Brown and Rev. Cooper are studying and forming recommendations for rules and regulations for operation of the board, the organization of the board, meeting dates, etc., and the appointment of the Assistant Chief of Police.

Brown and Rev. Cooper are also considering rules and regulations for the operation of the Police Department, to include duties of each officer, conduct of officers and guidelines for disciplinary action against police officers in cases where such action might be necessary.

Street

ditch roadways when no material was available.

The Street and Alley committee took advantage of the offer and the district men and equipment were put to work, in conjunction with men and equipment of the S & A Department. The result is noticeable in various parts of town. Streets that have not been ditched in 25 years now have clean ditches, officials say. Some streets that have not been "worked" in years have been improved.

In the six-weeks period of cooperative work, M. C. (Cal) Rodgers, secretary-treasurer for the road district, noted that some $20,000 in labor and operational costs for the machines has already been chalked up to operational expenses in the city.

"As long as our men and equipment are not needed to maintain the roads in other areas, they will be made available to the City, for whatever work is deemed necessary, whether the work is in alleys, roads or streets. If the City needs the assistance for another six weeks, we will be glad to help out," Rodgers said.

Vernon Ditton, supervisor of the Street and Alley Department, noted that the road district assistance has made it possible to work over many streets it would have been impossible to work this year.

"When we can furnish materials, they pave. When no materials are available, the road district men are ditching," Ditton said.

Accidents

Roy Eno, 17, 1400 State Fair, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Tuesday night by Dr. J. C. Brazos for an abrasion on the left side of his chin, neck and chest. The injury was reportedly sustained while he was at work for the Ulteig Engineering Co., 622 East Fifth.

Susan Hume, 7, Jefferson City, was treated at Bothwell Hospital Tuesday night for a fractured left wrist by Dr. J. C. Brazos.

There were no injuries in an accident about 9:45 p.m. Tuesday, seven-tenths of a mile south of the city limits on Highway 65. Involved were a 1962 Ford pickup, driven by Arvin Gary Campbell, 26, Sunset Motel, and a 1957 Mercury driven by Johnny Mac Williams, 33, Route 1.

The accident occurred as the pickup was making a left turn into a private drive. According to Missouri State Highway Patrolman Bill Southwick, who investigated, the Mercury skidded 25 paces before hitting the right rear of the truck.

Campbell was issued a citation for careless and reckless driving, and is to appear in Magistrate Court June 26.

Roxanne Dunham, Otterville, was given a booster tetanus shot on order of Dr. John Lamy at Bothwell Hospital Wednesday morning to counter possible effects of a nail wound in the foot received last Saturday while the girl was at the Lake of the Ozarks.

little attention to the machine and the fog it creates, and Morris warned that driving into the fog is just like driving with the vehicle lights off. Morris told of one instance last year, of a driver meeting the machine, which was going full blast. Morris said that he was driving the fogger, and knew that the fog was so heavy the oncoming driver could not see in the fog. Morris said that he turned the fogger into the street and stopped the driver, who got mad because he was not allowed to drive through the fog.

vandals sometime Monday night. Franklin said the car's radio antenna was broken off while the vehicle was parked at his home at 506 South New York, at Bothwell Hospital or in the downtown area.

Police made an intensive search of the Hotel Bothwell late Tuesday night after receiving several reports of a man looking into third floor windows, apparently from the roof of the building adjoining the hotel on the north.

Officers received the first report at 10:20 p.m., but could find no one. At 10:40 p.m., police said, Florence Middleton, who has an apartment over Queen City Electric saw a man. At 11:10 p.m. hotel manager William Keim reported the man had been seen again and police said a subject was believed seen on the top floor of the hotel.

A floor by floor check of the hotel failed to produce the intruder, however.

Circuit Court

Sgt. Andrew Harry Paulin, of Whiteman AFB, made application Tuesday for a change of venue to Circuit Court on a speeding charge filed March 30 of this year.

Paulin's petition alleges Frank T. Armstrong, judge of the Magistrate Court who would normally hear the speeding case, is biased and prejudiced against him.

Paulin was arrested west of Sedalia on Highway 50 by St. Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr. The trooper was operating a radar unit and charged Paulin with speeding 76 miles per hour in a 65 mile zone.

The airman is represented by O. E. Brown.

Arthur Frank Huff and Lucille Huff filed a damage petition in Circuit Court Tuesday afternoon asking a total of $90,000 from defendant Patrick T. Moriarty.

The suit evolved from an auto accident at 24th and Kentucky on Jan. 6 of this year.

Mr. Huff asks $50,000 on the first count of the petition, Mrs. Huff asks $10,000 on a second count and $25,000 on a third count, and Mr. Huff asks $5,000 on the fourth count of the petition.

George H. Miller is the attorney for the plaintiffs.

Russell Rhinehart filed a petition seeking a divorce from Frances Rhinehart in Circuit Court Tuesday. George H. Miller is attorney for the plaintiff.

Carolyn Ruth Cross, a minor acting through a next friend, filed a separate maintenance petition in Circuit Court Tuesday against Robert Burk Cross. George H. Miller is her attorney.

Former Sedalian Recalls Conversation With Lenin

A recent story about Otto C. Botz, Jefferson City, former Sedalian, and his startling conversation with V. I. Lenin, leader of the 1917 Bolshevik (Communist) revolution, was written recently for the United Press International by Robert I. Beecroft.

Botz was one of the five sons of Charles Botz, who was also the father of the late Charles O. Botz, who continued to run the Botz Printing Co. in Sedalia as long as he lived. The father purchased the Sedalia Journal in April, 1882, and was one of the most successful papers published in the German language during its days of publication. All five of his sons worked on the paper. When World War I came on Mr. Botz, desiring to show his patriotism, immediately suspended publication of the paper and continued, with his sons, in the stationery and supply business.

The story by Beecroft tells of the son, Otto, who is now 81, who started to work for his father on the newspaper when he was ten setting type, and was sent out by his father to see the world at the age of 20, with $45 in his pocket, saved from a weekly salary of 25 cents.

New Foods May Cut Life Span

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A nationally known nutrition researcher deplored today the super-feeding of children in America and said it might lead to a definite shortening of the average life-span within the next two generations.

Dr. John B. Youmans of Nashville, Tenn., said the possibility exists that super-nutrition in the United States — especially among infants — may "make the biological clock run too fast," and thus ultimately cause earlier-than-normal aging and cut longevity.

He said this at a news conference at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association prior to accepting the AMA's Goldberger Award for outstanding nutritional research.

Youmans, a former director of the AMA's division of scientific activities and now president of United Health Foundations, Inc., of New York, told reporters:

"I would question the tendency in this country to feed infants earlier and earlier on solid foods, and to give infants and children more and more vitamins, and higher and higher levels of energy-providing nutrients in the form of calories."

"I think we should take a look at this tendency to try to make children develop faster."

"Today," he added, "kids are bigger than their fathers, and girls are menstruating earlier."

"American boys are from 6 to 8 per cent taller in height and 12 to 18 per cent heavier in weight (on the average) than their fathers were 30 years ago."

He said there is increased evidence of degenerative diseases setting in at an earlier age than in the past, and some evidence that more people are dying young from such ills.

Mrs. Sylvia Kavadas Joins Esther Circle

Mrs. Sylvia Kavadas was welcomed into membership of Esther Circle, Our Savior Lutheran Church, June 12 at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Herbert Gerken, rural LaMonte.

Mrs. Herman Anderson presented the topic, "Luther and the Open Bible."

1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge—small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Job's Daughters Install Officers for Coming Year

The installation of Miss Patty Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Riley, 304 Southwest Blvd., as honored queen, with other officers of Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 16, took place Wednesday night in the Blue Room of the Masonic Temple.

The East was a symphony of yellow, white and silver, with the yellow backdrop decorated with yellow and white paper snowflakes, silver branches and green ivy. Hanging from the backdrop were yellow and white balls with silver trim, and yellow and white streamers formed the top of the canopy over the dais. Across the front of the canopy were the letters forming the name Patty. The sides of the backdrop were yellow balls with ivy vines anchored with yellow and white bows and gaily colored lighted lanterns hung from one side of the back drop.

Other officers of Job's Daughters, and Candy Taylor, were introduced by Joyce Eicholtz, who carried the Bible and presented the scripture with Nita Napier, installing chaplain, giving the prayer.

Candy Taylor sang "Faith Unlocks the Door" as a cross was formed at the altar by Joyce Eicholtz, Judy McMullen, Barbara Oehrke, Marilyn Reidorff, Cindy Young and Vicky Garrett.

The American flag was presented by Joyce Quint, honorary member, and all sang "The Star Spangled Banner," after which the pledge of allegiance was given.

Patty Riley was then installed as honored queen and presented a basket of yellow roses by Vicky Loveland, past honored queen. Mrs. Barbara Loveland, just princess, Kay Jacoby, Joyce Quint and Donna Nave, honorary members of the Jobs Daughters, and Candy Taylor.

Other officers installed were: Penny Nichols, senior princess; Gloria Hill, junior princess; Janet Burford, guide; Pamela Price, marshal; and the appointed officers. Barbara Mock, senior custodian, Jill Ulmer, junior custodian, Linda Russell, outer guard, Linda Spears, inner guard, Janis Marshall, recorder, Cheryl Hinkle, treasurer, Sandy Long, chaplain, Karen Roe, musician, Gayle Rose, librarian, Susan Long, first messenger, Mary Greene, second messenger, Kathy Beale, fifth messenger, Paula Harms, flag bearer, and Candy Taylor, soloist.

A cedar gavel, made by Lon Morris, was presented to the honored queen, by Mike Riley.

At the close of the installation the retiring honored queen left the East and the new queen introduced her parents, her brother, Mike, and her sister, Rhonda, the protem officers were then installed by her and seated beside the regularly appointed officers.

She then introduced Mrs. Mary Spears, past honored queen and past guardian of Bethel 15, the past honored queens, the retiring honored queen, and the past princess.

Also, Mrs. Anne Brown, past grand guardian of the State of Missouri, Job's Daughter, and guardian of Bethel No. 15; Francis Rudd, associate guardian of Bethel No. 15; Mrs. Sophia Crossin, and Mrs. Dorothy Riley, past guardians of Bethel 15; the executive council and the council members of the Bethel.

Worthy matrons introduced were: Mrs. Bernice Stevens, Petis Chapter, No. 279; Mrs. Mary Harlan, Sedalia Chapter, No. 57; Mrs. Florence Bohon, district deputy and grand matron of the 36th district, Order of the Eastern Star.

Others introduced were: Harold Painter, eminent prior of Missouri Priory, Knights of York Cross of Honor of the State of Missouri

Breaks Fishbowl On Tenant's Head

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Helon Wilson testified in city court that her landlord broke her goldfish bowl over her head in an argument about unpaid rent.

The landlord, Elmer Edwin Craven of Paola, Kan., denied the attack, but conceded there was an argument.

Policemen testified they found dead fish on the floor and Mrs. Wilson soaking wet when they arrived at the apartment.

Judge Ralph Martin fined Craven $25 for disturbing the peace.

George Ray, worshipful master of Sedalia Lodge No. 236, presented Miss Riley, honored queen, with a pair of china swans from Bethel 15, and a ceremony honoring her was presented by the elective officers and retiring queen. Small yellow roses, signifying the stations held by the newly installed honored queen, with appropriate verses for the station were attached to a small vase with angels on either side and presented to the honored queen.

After remarks by various guests and members, all were invited into the dining room by Mrs. Elmer Claxson, supply pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, gave the benediction.

Donna Painter served as usher with other members of Bethel 15, and Debbie Salmon was in charge of the guest book.

Linda Hill and Judy Scott presided at the reception table which was covered with a lace cloth over yellow and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthemums and yellow roses in a silver bowl. Silver candelabra on either side held yellow candles. At the ends of the table were white lighted candles and punch bowls holding yellow punch which was served with cookies, mints and nuts in silver trays. The white napkins had "Patty Riley, honored queen," in yellow.

All members were invited to attend the East Sedalia Baptist Church Sunday and a tea was held for officers and other guests at the home of the honored queen's parents from 2 to 4 Sunday afternoon.

Don't Encourage Burglars

A carefree vacation can end in frustration by the disheartening discovery upon returning home that your premises have been pilfered during your absence.

The season is here when more people leave town for a change of scenery and relaxation. It is also a time when the potential breaking and entering fraternity goes into more active snooping. Not that burglars are ever dormant in Sedalia. They operate sporadically regardless of the season even when householders go on a brief shopping trip downtown or stay away over the week end.

But summer vacation time seems to offer the best advantage to persons bent on pilfering homes when families are gone for any length of time. Many of the latter fail to take precautions against this.

There was a time when the personal columns of the local daily told of the coming and goings of everyone seen boarding a train or bus. Some of them would request their names not be printed in the newspaper because this might be an invitation to a burglar to visit their home while they were absent. We remember this was an annual ritual for many Sedalians.

Then we would notice later on that these same people forgot to stop their newspapers which would pile up; likewise the mail, even delivered milk; the grass grew tall; the house was dark every night; the blinds all pulled down. What a list of encouragements for a prospective burglar. He surely didn't have to read in the paper that the family was gone. The family, however, seemed to think that censorship of their absence was the essence of security!

A few, but not foolproof, precautions for vacationers are to leave a light on, keep the blinds up, stop the newspapers, arrange for someone to mow the grass, have a neighbor pick up the mail. Don't deliberately or neglectfully advertise your house as a target for a burglar.

Take a vacation, have fun, and come home to enjoy what you left behind, not to moan over the things some thief took away because of your thoughtlessness against precautions to discourage him from breaking in.

"And Try to Hang on to This Till You Get Back!"

Dialogue from Washington

By VERA CLAY

Why don't we have representation at the Vatican? With the death of Pope John XXIII, a magnificent personality, proved once again, that a denominational tag has nothing to do with a great man. Pope John was a citizen of the world. He looked "out" rather than "in" and his mind and heart were open to all people. He preached and lived in a state of "tolerance" which is more than can be said for the rest of us.

We do not have an ambassador to the Vatican at the present time because there probably would be an unbelievable uproar if President Kennedy, a Catholic, the first Catholic President, were to appoint one. There was enough disgraceful religious-baiting when Kennedy ran for office. But, by this time, even his arch political rivals are willing to admit that the Holy See is not running our country.

The Vatican City, as everyone knows is a separate political state and the Pope wears two hats: he is head of a temporal, sovereign state on the one hand, and head of the Catholic Church on the other. The distinction may seem paper thin but legally it is a fact and regardless of what we feel, the Pope's influence for peace can be, as we have seen, monumental.

Also, it would seem to be eminently practical to have an intelligent representative within the Vatican if for nothing else than to act as reporter. It has been well established that the Vatican probably is one of the best "listening posts" in the world; fifty nations and more maintain diplomatic relations with the Vatican.

Prior to and during World War II, President Franklin Roosevelt recognized this immediately and promptly dispatched Myron Taylor as his "personal representative" with the rank of Ambassador. Mr. Taylor served until 1950 at which time President Harry Truman sent the name of war hero General Mark Clark, an Episcopalian, to Congress to be Ambassador to the Vatican.

All hell broke loose in the press and in the Senate. General Mark Clark requested that his name be withdrawn and the White House issued a release indicating that at some future date representation to the Vatican City would be reconsidered. From that time to this, no other name has been re-submitted to the Senate and no formal relations between the United States and the Holy See exist. Even our Ambassador to Italy stationed in Rome has no diplomatic contact; informal give and take exists to a limited extent.

Legal experts within the State Department maintain that Myron

Taylor's "personal representative" status even though he was called an ambassador did not raise the Vatican to an official embassy post. This legal hair-splitting for some reason keeps those Americans who feel we may get tainted by contact with the Vatican, happier than they would be otherwise and no one wants to open up a Pandora's box of prejudice if it can be helped—and certainly not in a presidential election year. It will take more courage than even Kennedy has to bring the subject up at the present time and more likely it will be a president of the Protestant faith who will have to break the ice, again.

It has not always been thus. Historically, relations with the Vatican started out happily. In 1784, the Vatican agreed to open up some Mediterranean ports to the new republic and in 1797, John B. Sartori, a native Italian was appointed to look after our interests. Consular representation was maintained until 1846 when President Polk appointed Jacob L. Martin to be Charge d'affaires, raising the post to one of a Legation. Polk admonished his representative to distinguish between the Pope's temporal and spiritual duties. Our relations continued uninterrupted until 1867 at which time Congress abruptly cut relations and funds—for political motives as much as any other. That spectre of being governed by the Vatican always has been the rallying cry.

Nevertheless, there is a constant pilgrimage from the U.S. to the Vatican: including, among others, our own Vice President Lyndon Johnson, Mrs. Kennedy, Presidents Truman and Eisenhower and many other citizens of note who consider it a privilege to have a private audience with the Pope even though they are not Catholics. Presidents Woodrow Wilson and Teddy Roosevelt, too, made their calls at the Vatican. Whether President Kennedy will go to the Vatican now that Pope John is dead is problematical. He admired the Pope greatly and no one knows yet who his successor will be.

Some far out critics claim that if we recognize the Vatican we will have to recognize Red China. This reasoning, if it can be so called, has no validity as each case of recognition must be considered individually. Besides recognition does not necessarily mean approval; we do maintain diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union and we absolutely do not approve of their government or anything about the way they run their show. Yet, everyone has to admit it is useful to have some one on the scene. Why can't the same thesis apply to the Vatican?

We the Women

Share the Disappointment

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our 17-year-old boy has set his heart on attending an out-of-state college, which has accepted him. It has raised its tuition and dormitory costs far beyond what we can afford. We are going to have to tell him he has to register at our local college and live at home, and we are afraid to do it. He has been looking forward so to college life away from home that we are afraid he may be so disappointed. . . .

Answer: You and his father are also disappointed. You'd better know this. You'll need your own sadness over this development if you are going to give sympathy to your boy's disappointment. If you don't feel it, you'll be tricked into defending yourselves instead of sympathizing with the sadness back of his possible reproaches.

You haven't made it impossible for him to attend his chosen college. The Board of Trustees has made it impossible. There's a kind of egotism in us all that loves to take on blame. If we haven't the money to support a youngster in an out-of-town school, we somehow feel we should have it. What we can do for our boy becomes nothing compared with what we feel we should be able to do for him. As a result of this secret dissatisfaction with ourselves, he feels disapproval of us, too. He may turn upon us with reproaches that echo our own hidden belief that we are disappointing parents.

But if we are not involved with inward disapproval of ourselves, we can share in his disappointment. Instead of apologizing and "explaining" how come we can't afford to give him what he wants, we say:

"We are disappointed, too. But we can't change the facts, no matter how sad they make us. So we have been looking at them. Going to college here in town may not be awful as we've thought. We'll certainly try to give you as much freedom as we can."

In situations like this, we have to become aware of what we have been able to give to our child and credit ourselves with an "A" for effort.

That's what they have to learn to do sooner or later if disappointments are not to throw them. The real lessons are not taught by colleges, even out-of-state ones. The real ones are taught by parents who do not disparage themselves—who can act out before their child's eyes their acceptance of what they are.

Where Do You Get It?

Sympathize with the citizen earnestly seeking the truth about the affairs, world and national, his government is involved in.

He has good reason to believe, at any given time, that the incumbent national administration has unparalleled sources of good information. It knows better than anyone what it is doing—and what is happening, especially in places where facts are hard to get.

What the citizen cannot know much of the time is how much of the true story an administration is leaving out or distorting—either for justifiable security reasons or its own protection.

Generally speaking, the citizen also is aware that outsiders, whether in Congress, in alert civic groups, in the so-called "intellectual community," cannot hope to match an administration's information sources except in rare instances. Often, indeed, outsiders are grossly handicapped by major factual gaps.

Mostly, however, they do not permit this to deter them from passing sure-handed judgment on what an administration does and says.

Where stands the citizen in his quest? It would be nice if he had some reliable, impartial clearinghouse for truth.

But where would this clearinghouse get its solid information? You can hardly find truth where government agencies prefer to keep the public, which supports them, rooted in ignorance, and from whom misinformation is deliberately spread from the inside.

No Dreaming On Job

Turn off your daydreams before they turn into nightmares.

That, in essence, sums up the opinion of a Houston, Tex., consulting psychologist, given before a session of the annual Texas Safety Association conference.

Says Dr. Jerrold D. Scott: "The type of person likely to daydream is one extremely concerned with the impression he makes on others. He is the type who will sometimes show off by operating equipment he is not qualified to operate—a sensitive person, who, if he fails to get needed recognition on his job, may resort to daydreaming."

If you must daydream, do it on your own time, from the safety of your easy chair.

JFK Cracks Down On Repression

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It wasn't published, but what brought the religious crackdown on President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Vietnam was a request by him to Gen. Paul Harkins, the U.S. commander, for U.S. planes and helicopters to suppress Buddhist religious demonstrations.

This caused the first Catholic president of the United States to send vigorous warnings to the Catholic president of Vietnam that repressive measures against the Buddhists must cease.

Kennedy's warning was something which a previous, Presbyterian president of the United States had side-stepped. It was long overdue.

It is no secret that the Eisenhower administration intervened in Vietnam partly at the urging of Cardinal Spellman of New York to save the turbulent Catholic kingdom in the one-time French colony of Indo-China.

Since then repressive measures by the ruling Catholic aristocracy against the Buddhist population have seriously retarded what is supposed to be the No. 1 battle in that area—the struggle against Chinese communism. The population is seventy per cent Buddhist.

U.S. military authorities report that Vietnamese troops, trained by American military experts and equipped from American arsenals, have been spending more time repressing the Buddhists than fighting Communists.

So with 10,000 American troops stationed in the area and around two billions of the taxpayers' money invested, President Kennedy decided our contribution was not to be used in a religious war. He cracked down on his

Guest Editorial

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Costs of Dishonesty.—Estimating that more than $4,000,000 in cash and merchandise is stolen from employers in the United States each working day, Norman Jaspas, head of a management engineering firm, describes this as "the most shocking wave of internal dishonesty in the nation's history."

Historical perspectives on such a subject are not easy to establish. Whether the toll is greater than a century or two ago in proportion to the volume of trade is anybody's guess.

What is certain is that any shrinkage at all due to dishonesty is unjustified and injurious. Mr. Jaspas finds that thefts of merchandise are much greater than those of cash, that frauds drive 250 firms out of business every year, and that kickbacks in purchasing are costly to buyer and seller. Tighter management can prevent many of these losses; so can a broader sense of fair play on the part of employees.

World Food Problem

At the World Food Congress President Kennedy referred to the American farm surplus: "All of our stored abundance, even if it could be distributed evenly to all the undernourished of the world, would provide a balanced diet for less than one month."

Arnold Toynbee, the famed British historian, warned that the world faced a danger as great as the "peril of atomic mass suicide" unless it practiced birth control.

"We have been godlike in our planned breeding of domesticated plants and animals," Toynbee said, "but rabbit-like in our unplanned breeding of ourselves."

The World Food Congress adjourned with an awesome awareness of the problem, but no solutions.

Kennedy and Birth Control

Meeting in closed-door sessions with senators last week, Attorney General Kennedy, the President's brother, emphasized the danger of race riots in northern cities. He seemed more worried over Negro explosions in Chicago, Philadelphia, New York, Washington and Baltimore than in the deep south.

Bob Kennedy did not elaborate, but a steady stream of Negroes has been migrating to the Illinois Central R.R. from Mississippi to Chicago, while other streams have been arriving in Washington, Philadelphia and other metropolitan centers.

They have been looking for the millennium; have found unemployment, poverty, slums. The issue in these cities is not basically discrimination but economics.

The World Today

An Issue Before the Constitution

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's decision this week—prohibiting states to require Bible-reading or recital of prayers in public schools—climaxed an issue which had been an issue before there was a Constitution.

The court arrived at its ruling in a long, around-about way over almost 100 years. Putting this week's decision together with previous decisions of the court, this is what it all means:

Government can't support religion. Therefore, no state can require religious exercises of any kind in a public school nor can it permit use of school property for such exercises.

A system of public school education did not really begin in this country until about the 1830s. In the colonies education was almost entirely under private control, frequently by the dominant Protestant groups.

In 1786, one year before the Constitutional Convention, James Madison, an architect of the First Amendment a year later, blocked an attempt in Virginia to provide tax funds for the teaching of religion in the schools there.

The First Amendment said "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

But the amendment didn't say states couldn't pass such a law. Then the federal government got the power to tell states they must keep separate from religion with adoption of the 14th Amendment in 1868.

It said: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States." This meant protection for the privileges and immunities guaranteed by the First Amendment.

Yet, over the years a number of states required religious exercises in the public schools, or left the question to local communities to settle. This week's decision will probably affect a majority of the states.

The court started in 1872—four years after the adoption of the 14th Amendment—down the road which finally led, after many turns, to what happened this week.

That year it refused to get involved in a dispute over property between two branches of the Presbyterian Church. The court said religious bodies would be subverted if they could get secular courts to settle their differences.

Then there was a question: could Indians use money, their own but held in trust for them by the federal government, to pay their tuition in religious schools? The court said yes because to say no would infringe upon their religious freedom.

In 1879 the court upheld the right of a state to ban plural marriages by Mormons. The decision was historic. It said: While states may not interfere with mere "religious beliefs and opinions, they may with practices."

Over the years there seemed to be no end to the variety of issues. Students who went to the University of California and, under state law, had to take military training, objected that it was contrary to their religious beliefs. The court overruled them.

It made a point which had great significance later. It said the students had no legitimate objection under the Constitution because they hadn't been compelled to go to that state school and could have gone elsewhere. Since they chose to go to that one, they had to comply with the state law that applied to that one.

Yet the court upheld the right of children of Jehovah's Witnesses to refuse to take part in a public school salute to the flag requirement. The court here upheld the children, saying the requirement infringed upon their free exercise of religion. How could this be, in view of the California decision?

In this case, the court said, the children had to go to the public schools and the schools had no right to require a flag-salute contrary to their religious views.

But in several memorable decisions, starting in 1947, the court began moving toward this week's decision.

It said parents living in a town where they sent their children to Roman Catholic schools could be reimbursed by the town for the transportation costs on these grounds:

That the town (state) was not contributing to the support of the schools but was simply helping parents get their children to the schools. If this looked as if the court was breaking down the wall separating church and state, it wasn't.

In 1949 it banned a system in which religious teachers visited a school weekly to give religious instruction to children who wanted it. Those who didn't were released from taking part. This was the so-called "released-time" idea.

The court banned it as violation of the First Amendment's prohibition against establishment of religion. The reason: the religious instruction was given in tax-supported schools to aid a religious group spread its faith.

But then the court, in another case, said it was all right for children to be given time off from school to get religious instruction somewhere off the school premises. The court ruled here: "The First Amendment does not say that in every and all respects there shall be a separation of church and state."

Last year the court logically followed the course it had been taking by forbidding New York to require public school children to recite a prayer composed by the school board, even though children who didn't want to take part could leave the room.

Then this week came the biggest ruling of all: the court said states couldn't require Bible-reading or prayer recital in public schools.

Casualty List Mounts With Wins

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lo, the poor Yankees.

They can't seem to survive a game without someone getting banged up. They have a casualty list as long as the New York telephone book.

The only thing the battered Bombers can do is win.

They won their fifth in a row Tuesday night, with relief pitcher Marshall Bridges injured in the process, rapping Washington 10-5 with a 13-hit attack that included a pair of lusty home runs by Roger Maris.

The Yankee victory boosted their American League lead to a full game over the Chicago White Sox, who were clipped by the Minnesota Twins 5-3.

Cleveland's rampaging Indians took their sixth straight, beating the sagging Baltimore Orioles 7-3 behind Barry Latman's five-hit pitching; Boston's Earl Wilson blanked Detroit 9-0 on a four-hitter, spoiling Chuck Dressen's debut as Tiger manager; and the Los Angeles Angels got the tie-breaking run on a bases-loaded wild pitch in the 11th inning for a 2-1 decision over Kansas City.

The Yankees, who have had several regulars hurt, suffered their biggest jolt when slugger superstar Mickey Mantle sustained a broken foot two weeks ago. They promptly went into a three-game losing spin, but have since pulled out handsomely by winning eight of 10.

Fire Manager Rule Upheld By Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — There is a baseball axiom as old as the major leagues—when things go bad, the first move is fire the manager.

The Detroit Tigers are a team steeped in tradition. They also are more steeped in talent than most other American League clubs.

So when things went bad, the Tigers resorted to the old theory. Instead of changing talent that wasn't producing, they changed the manager.

This is nothing new for the Tigers. They've had nine managers in 12 years, six in the last six years.

Charley Dressen, the new man who took over Tuesday, faces the same problems that ousted Bob Scheffing had and couldn't resolve. The key to the Tigers' troubles—ninth place when they were expected to contend for the pennant—was the failure of Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash.

Scheffing couldn't hit for them. And neither can Dressen, whose Brooklyn club won pennants when it had great talent and whose Cincinnati, Washington and Milwaukee clubs were also rans when they didn't.

But instead of snapping at the numerous trade offers for Colavito or Cash the Tigers fired Scheffing Tuesday along with his coaching staff. Only last month general manager Jim Campbell said Scheffing's job was safe.

Dressen's debut was a losing one Tuesday night to the Red Sox in Boston 9-0 as Earl Wilson of the Sox pitched a 4-hitter. Stubby Overmire, Bob Swift and Pat Mullin, Dressen's three new coaches, also were on hand.

Sam Watson, Com.
Earl Bell, Adj.

Granite Lodge No. 278, A. F. & A. M. will meet in stated communication Friday, June 21, at 8 p. m., Masonic Temple, Broadway and Missouri. Visiting brethren always welcome.

Morris K. Roseboom, W. M.
Lloyd C. Kennon, Sec'y.

They lost little time settling matters with the last-place Senators, losers in their last six. Tom Tresh and Tony Kubek hit two-run homers as New York built up a 5-0 lead against Tom Cheney in the first two innings and by the fifth it was 9-0. Maris, in addition to homers 10 and 11, also singled.

Whitey Ford started for the Yanks and lasted through the sixth, long enough to gain his ninth victory in 12 decisions and run his lifetime mark against Washington to 33-5. Larry Osborne tagged the stylish southpaw for a two-run homer before Whitey was replaced by Bridges.

The left-handed reliever joined the limping list in the seventh when he was sent sprawling by Osborne in a play at first base. Bridges went to the sidelines with a slightly hurt left knee and Hal Reniff finished up.

Harmon Killebrew's 11th homer and run-producing singles by Vic Power, pitcher Jim Perry and Zoilo Versalles paced Minnesota to a 4-0 lead and the Twins held on against the White Sox. Perry gave up eight hits and five walks in seven innings but only two runs. J. C. Martin got the other Chicago run with a homer against Twin reliever Bill Dailey in the eighth. Joe Horlen was the loser.

Latman doled out just one Oriole hit through six innings, and struck out 11 over-all. The Tribe backed him with an early offense, scoring in each of the first five innings off loser Dave McNally and reliever Wes Stock for a 7-0 advantage.

Willie Kirkland socked his sixth homer in the last 10 games for the Indians, who have zoomed up to fourth place by winning 16 of their last 18. The Orioles, meanwhile, have dropped 15 of 19.

Dressen, who replaced the fired Bob Scheffing as Detroit manager only hours before game time, watched his Tigers lose their eighth in a row. The Red Sox were stymied by rookie Bill Faul until the seventh inning when they broke a scoreless tie with three runs, then made it a rout with six in the eighth.

Ed Bressoud and Dick Stuart gave home run support to Wilson, now 6-5.

John Wyatt uncorked the wild pitch on his first delivery at Los Angeles, allowing Bob Perry to romp in with the 11th-inning run that enabled the Angels to edge the Athletics. Ken McBride, 7-6 and winner of four straight, went all the way for Los Angeles, giving up just three hits.

Kansas City's starter and loser, Moe Drabowsky, hit Perry with a pitch leading off the Angel 11th, then made a bad throw after fielding Ed Sadowski's sacrifice bunt and walked Albie Pearson intentionally. Wyatt then came in—and so did Perry.

The Angels now have won four in succession and the A's have lost three straight—all by one run each.

Game Schedule For Tonight

The semi-pro Sedalia Merchants and the Sedalia Ban Johnson Chiefs will clash in an exhibition game at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Liberty Park baseball diamond.

Some "real action" is promised, since each team is currently leading its respective league.

The Merchants were Missouri State Semi-pro Champions last year, and are out to repeat their record. The Chiefs, currently undefeated, are strong favorites to capture the Central Missouri Ban Johnson title this year.

The Chiefs, boasting a well-rounded club, have good power, with Lonnie Schott, Bob Lange, Tim Morgan, Ernie Dow and Bill Ferguson leading their hitting attack. It is expected that Terry Fletcher or Don Wilhite will be on the mound for the Chiefs.

An injury to Charlie Newman has caused the Merchants some difficulty, since he has been an outstanding catcher. The addition of Don Crank, however, has given the club a lift in left hand hitting power. "Skip" Schulz will be the starter for the Merchants, with Bob Brown ready in relief, if needed.

Local Sports Forecast For Today

The Little League, Connie Mack League, and the Sedalia Merchants will see action tonight on the local sports scene.

Kiwanis will face Elks and Post 16 will play Adco in both the Little League "majors" at Liberty Park and the A's at Centennial Park. Lions will play Moose in the "B" and "C" team games at Housel Park. Games at all three parks start at 6 p.m.

In Connie Mack play at the Liberty Park baseball diamond, VFW will play S and M Athletic Goods at 6:30 p.m., with Redwing Pest Control and Pepsi to clash in the second game.

The semi-pro Sedalia Merchants are slated to travel to Columbia for a game there tonight.

Burdette Keeps Cards Out Front

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"That trade oughta keep them up there," said Casey Stengel before his New York Mets faced the St. Louis Cardinals and their new pitcher, Lew Burdette, Tuesday night in St. Louis.

Burdette, making his first start since coming to St. Louis from Milwaukee Sunday, cruised by the Mets, 6-2, and kept the Cardinals on top of the National League standings for the second straight day.

Burdette gave up six hits and lost a shutout in the ninth with two out when Tim Lincecum hit a two-run homer. He struck out seven and walked one.

The Los Angeles Angels edged Kansas City in eleven innings when John Wyatt made a wild pitch with the bases loaded to give the Angels a 2 to 1 victory. It was the fourth straight loss for the A's by one run.

Los Angeles scored in the first on a single, stolen base, an infield out and another single. Kansas City evened the count in the seventh on a double by Haywood Sullivan that scored Gino Cimoli.

Ken McBride went all the way for the victory. He allowed only three hits, struck out 7 and walked 5.

Moe Drabowsky took the loss. He walked four, struck out 9 and gave up 8 scattered hits. It was the eleventh, however, that proved his undoing.

He hit Bob Perry who then advanced to second on a sacrifice and took third when Drabowsky threw the ball into center field. Albie Pearson was given an intentional walk to load the bases.

Then Wyatt was called from the bull pen and uncorked the wild pitch.

The A's play the Angels in a doubleheader tonight in Los Angeles with Ed Rakow and Diego Segui facing Dan Osinski and Don Lee.

The Cardinals staked Burdette (7-5) to a quick five-run lead in the first with the help of New York misplays.

Curt Flood, Bill White and George Altman singled to go along with an error, a walk, a wild pitch, a passed ball and three walks. The hit by Altman ran his consecutive game hitting streak to 16.

Larry Bearnarth replaced starter Carlton Willey for the Mets and held the Cardinals to one run in 6 1-3 innings of relief.

Ray Sadecki, another Cardinal with four straight victories, will face the Mets and Tracy Stallard (2-3) today. Sadecki has lost four.

Demand Wins First Game Of Season

Demand Shoes came through with their first season win, and Adco took over the American League lead, in two shutout games in Babe Ruth action Tuesday night at the Liberty Park baseball diamond.

The first game saw Demands bury Brown Auto 14-0 in five innings.

Gary Brownfield, winning pitcher for Demands, hurled ten strikeouts, allowed only one hit and no walks. Brownfield also led his team's hitting, getting two hits in three times at bat. Dotson was the losing pitcher for Browns.

The big blow of the game came when Larry Brown socked a triple in the third, driving in three runs. Allen Litz had the only hit for Brown, in the first inning.

The second game saw Adco shut out Rotary 12-0 in five innings. Both teams had been tied for the American league lead with records of two wins and no losses.

Jim Thomas, pitcher for Adco, faced 17 men, striking out 15 of them, while allowing one hit, one walk, and one unearned run. Mike Kraxberger was the losing pitcher for Rotary.

Next Monday and Tuesday the 13 year old All Stars of each league will play in the first game at 6 p.m. The second game each evening will be between the 14 and 15 year old All Stars. Since the best players from each league will take part, the games promise to be highly competitive.

Indoor Mat Season Ends On Tuesday

The curtain goes down on the 1962-63 indoor wrestling season here Tuesday night, June 25, when a four-evening program is presented at the air-conditioned Agriculture Building.

Missourians Sonny Myers and Larry Hamilton, two highly regarded pros from St. Joseph, will collide with veteran ring rowdies Rock Hunter and Bob Geigel, in the main clash.

In separate events, stocky Roy Collins is pitted against the stylish young Canadian, Steve Bolas; Myers is matched against Geigel, and Hamilton against Hunter.

More will be at stake than just another chance for a favorable decision when Myers enters the ring. He'll be gunning for Hunter in both the individual and team events. It was Hunter who relieved Myers of his Central States ring crown a few weeks back and the margin of victory was so slim as to be questionable.

Myers has been on the warpath ever since and the rugged home-state heavyweight is anxious to level the account with Hunter.

His 250-pound partner is equally intent on ending the season on a winning note and will be trying to get in several good licks of his own. Hamilton, called the Missouri Mauler, has a wide assortment of holds, but much prefers to rough his way through the action, counting on his superior power to overcome his foes.

Hunter and Geigel form a capable twosome who can be dangerous from starting bell to last. It will take a strong showing by Myers and Hamilton to defeat them.

Bolas' match with Collins promises additional fireworks. Bolas is fast, clever and agile where his foe is slower, less versatile. But Collins packs a hard wallop and isn't above putting it to work for him.

Dick Sikes Leadoff Man On Greens

WICHITA (AP)—Medalist Dick Sikes of Arkansas was leadoff man today as 64 college golfers began driving for the National Collegiate Athletic Association individual title.

Oklahoma State won team honors—figured on the aggregate score of four players in 36 holes of qualifying—with a 581. The Cowboys edged out Houston, the defending champions, by a single stroke.

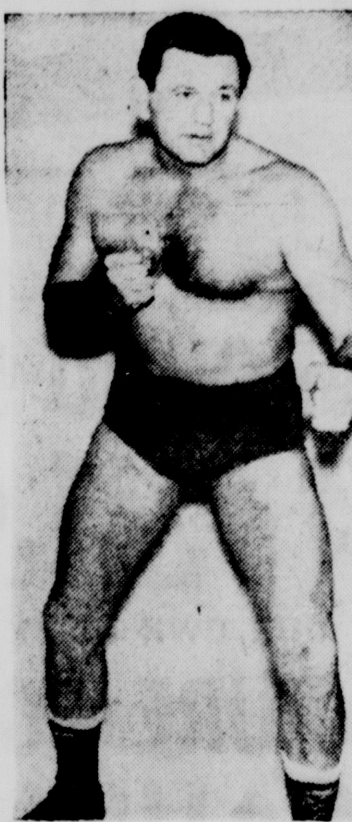

Sikes, a slender sun-tanned Walker Cup player, put together rounds of 69 and 70 for a 139 total, one stroke under par and one stroke better than George Hixon of Oklahoma State with 67-73, and Kermit Zarley, defending individual champion from Houston, with 72-68.

It took a 149 or better to get into the match play for the individual crown.

Among those who made it were James Colbert of Kansas State and Don Lackey of Oklahoma State at 145. Dave Eickelberger of Oklahoma State at 147. Gary Jarmon of Oklahoma at 148 and Harold Glass and Richard Poe of Missouri and Jim Jamison of Oklahoma State with 149s.

Scores generally were higher on second rounds over the Wichita Country Club's 6,640-yard course. The club pro, Bob Thomas, attributed this to dry weather following recent rains and to the shifting of pins to more difficult spots.

Hixon, whose opening round of 67 is the best in the tourney, missed several putts. After driving beyond the green on the 185-yard 17th hole, he lagged back missed a 15-foot putt and finished with a bogey four. On the final hole, he missed a 10-foot putt on

Lincoln And LaMonte Win In Soft Ball

Lincoln and LaMonte came out on top in softball action at Centennial Park Tuesday night, defeating cellar-mates Pittsburgh-Corning and Home Builders.

In the first game at 7 p.m., Lincoln defeated Pittsburgh-Corning by a solid 14-2 tally. The winning pitcher for Lincoln was E. Schnakenberg, with Villaneol taking the mound loss for Pittsburgh-Corning.

S. Cramer came out of an extended hitting slump, getting three hits in four times at bat, leading the hitting attack for Lincoln. R. Meyer slugged a homer for Lincoln in the first.

The second game at 8:30 saw LaMonte take the win, putting over four runs while Home Builders had two. The winning pitcher for LaMonte was Elwell, with Gordon taking the loss for Home Builders.

Gordon drove in both of Home Builders' runs with a home run in the fifth. Woodward continued his heavy hitting for LaMonte, with a home run and two doubles in three times at the plate.

One Forces On His Foot

Glass Slipper May Fit Burdette

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lew Burdette, a reluctant Cinderella who beat the stroke of midnight by a couple of ticks, may find the glass slipper forced on his foot a perfect fit.

Acquired from Milwaukee just before Saturday night's trading deadline, Burdette went right to work for St. Louis and maintained the Cardinals' slim hold on the National League lead by checking the New York Mets 6-2 on six hits Tuesday night.

Burdette, a 36-year-old left-hander, was dispatched to the Cards along with his hefty salary for catcher Gene Oliver and pitcher Bob Sadowski. The two-time 20-game winner said frankly he would have preferred to stay in Milwaukee.

Burdette, though reluctant to give up his long-time association with the Braves, may prove the added pitching help St. Louis needs in its quest for its first NL pennant since 1946.

Burdette responded immediately with a strong performance, blanking the Mets until Tim Lincecum hit a two-run homer with two out in the ninth. He struck out seven and walked only one while boosting his record to 7-5 with his fourth straight victory.

The triumph kept the Cardinals one-half game ahead of San Francisco. The Giants took over second place and dropped Los Angeles to third, 1½ games back, by thumping the Dodgers 9-3.

In other games, fourth-place Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 2-1, the Chicago Cubs downed Houston 3-1 and Milwaukee defeated Pittsburgh 7-5 in 10 innings.

The Cardinals scored five runs in the first inning, making the most of three hits, an error, a balk, a wild pitch, a passed ball and three walks to chase starter Carl Willey, now 5-6. Key singles were stroked by Curt Flood, Bill White and George Altman, who extended his hitting streak to 16 games.

Harvey Kuenn, replacing slumping Felipe Alou, got the Giants going against the Dodgers, lashing a leadoff single in a six-run third inning and winding up the uprising with a two-run single.

That provided more than enough margin for Jack Sanford, who scattered 10 hits for his ninth victory in 14 decisions, and got some additional working room from a homer by batterymate Tom Haller. Bob Miller, 4-4, was the loser.

The Reds won in the ninth after Vada Pinson's bouncer skipped over the head of Phil's first baseman Roy Sievers for a triple. Two intentional walks followed before Johnny Edwards singled in the deciding run. That ruined a smart pitching performance by R. Culp, 8-5, who allowed only six hits. Al Worthington, 2-1, got the victory.

Dick Ellsworth won his ninth for the Cubs with Lindy McDaniel's relief help. Ellsworth, who has lost five, had a shutout until the ninth when the Colts scored on Carl Warwick's single, a wild pitch, his own error and Howie Goss' grounder.

Ernie Banks drove in two Chicago runs with a single and sacrifice fly, and now has 999 RBI for his career.

Joe Torre got the job done for the Braves with a two-run homer in the 10th following Dick Schofield's third error—the Pirates sixth of the game. Torre tripped to knock in a run and scored the tying tally in the eighth. Bill Mazeroski homered for Pittsburgh.

Bob Shaw, 3-4, was the winner with Al McBean, 7-2, taking the loss.

Earl Cline Ends Career Of 38 Years

Earl Cline, 1016 South Montebello, has retired after 38 years as salesman with the Sunshine Biscuit Co., Inc., which, when he started, was Loose Wiles Biscuit Co., and was later changed to the Sunshine Biscuit Co.

Taking his place as salesman will be Pearly Bowers, 1008 East Seventh, who, for the past several years, drove the truck and did the deliveries for Cline.

Cline was born at Florence,

Earl Cline

Mo., and later moved to Sedalia with his parents. He wanted to be one of two things, a salesman, or own a grocery store. When he grew up, since he didn't have the money to buy a grocery store at that early age, he decided to be a salesman. His first job was selling groceries for the Boiler Wholesale Grocery Co., and he worked there six months; then he worked for 18 months for the old Bright Biscuit Co., but put in his application for the Sunshine Biscuit Co. He was fortunate enough to get the job and this territory, which goes not quite as far as Camdenton, but includes Eldon, Centertown and west to Concordia and that area. He was home every night except one every two weeks. During these years, he said, he has seen a good many young boys who were clerks in their father's stores, become owners of those stores which they are running today.

He went on to say that he believes there is only one grocery store in business today that was in business when he started on this territory with Loose Wiles Biscuit Co., and that is Wylie Bros., at Sweet Springs. "I have had a lot of pleasure out of doing business with my customers," he stated, "and, also, a lot of pleasure out of knowing many people not in the grocery business."

When he started selling for practically all of the roads were Loose Wiles Biscuit Co., he said, either dirt or gravel, adding, "and very little gravel at that." Today the entire territory has hard surfaced roads. "Time changes things," he said, "but in my case it was for the better."

Cline's family consists of his wife, Eva, one daughter, Imogene, Gates, her husband, Allen Gates, and her three children, Sandra, Joyce Lynn and Johnny, who are moving soon to the State of California.

The reason for his retirement is because of a rather severe heart attack he had this spring, since which time first one man and then another has been on his territory. He felt there should just be one man and that, since he did not know when, if ever, he would be able to work again, he decided to retire at this time. Still unable to do the things he would like to do, he is finding that just staying home doing nothing is getting monotonous. "But," he added, "my wife has always wanted a dishwasher—now she's got one." That is one job he seems to have taken over.
